

Oasis of the Seas unveiling early

Contributed by Shaun Robinson
Sunday, 21 December 2008
Last Updated Sunday, 21 December 2008

THE much awaited unveil of the world's biggest cruise liner will be on the 1st December – two-weeks early.

Owners, Royal Caribbean (RCI) said the 5,400 passenger ship will sail her seven night inaugural cruise to the Eastern Caribbean on 5th December 2009, she was due to sail on the 12th December, 2009.

Those eager to get on board the luxury floating 5-star resort, don't have to wait, Royal Caribbean said Oasis of the Seas will operate a special 4-day trip to their own private island near Haiti.

RCI confirmed those passengers booked for the Dec 12 inaugural can move to either of the earlier sailings between now and Jan 12, 2009 – at no cost.

Anyone wishing to take the Dec 1 or 5 cruise will be re-accommodated in the same cabin. The fare for the Dec 5 sailing will remain.

READ MORE ABOUT OASIS OF THE SEAS

Don't pay more than your tablemates Cruise prices can vary by £100's at different travel agencies, so CruiseCompete makes it quick and easy to shop around. Select the cruise you want, and let independent agents compete to offer you the best deal/[url]